

Keys To Success

The keys to success for Developing Skills

- I take time and accept practice is necessary when developing new skills.
- I am happy to make changes to plans when necessary.
- I am developing a range of relationships with wider members of my community.
- I can carry out responsibilities satisfactorily.
- I can focus on the present (rather than reviewing or anticipating).

Skills & Structure

The keys to success for Developing Morals & Values

- I am able to participate well in groups without dominating or being dominated.
- I am keen to learn new skills in areas that interest me.
- I can hold a different opinion without falling out with others.
- I am able to demonstrate and share a preferred way of doing things.
- I am clear about what is right and wrong, according to own values.
- I am happy to accept acknowledgement of my successes and achievements.

Skills & Structure

Keys To Success

